Dear Locality H & WB Fora Lead(s)

The Health and Well-being Board has agreed a draft HWB strategy for Northamptonshire which will be subject to a formal consultation process with Locality HWB Fora, staff and the public over the summer.

Before commencing the formal consultation process the County Council, Nene Commissioning and Corby Healthcare are engaging with the Locality Health and Well-being Fora to seek their views on the Strategy and the proposed 8 outcome areas. We are also asking the localities to consider potential priority areas for action in their localities based on the locality profiles and the views of key stakeholders.

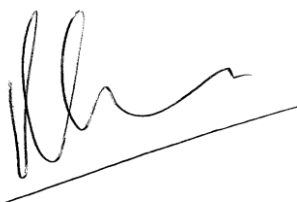

We are seeking feedback from the localities to inform the next Health and Well-being Board meeting on 14 June 2012. I know that a number of localities will be meeting before then and that others are making arrangements to consult their Fora membership on the draft strategy by other means. To assist with this process we have developed a web page where you can read and download the latest version of the draft strategy, a copy of the locality profile for your area, and a link to the JSNA web site. The web page also has a link to a brief questionnaire (on survey monkey), which we would like the Fora to consider. The questions are not intended to be exclusive and we would welcome any other observations or suggestions that colleagues in the Fora may wish to submit. The web address is

The responses will help us to shape the final version of the strategy prior to consultation and the local actions that are being considered to deliver the strategy.

I will be grateful if you would complete the questionnaire by Friday 1st June. In the meantime if you have any queries regarding the draft strategy, please contact Pat McCarthy at Nene Commissioning pat.mccarthy@1nhs.net Tel 01604 651237.

I look forward to receiving the response from your Fora.

Yours sincerely
